

The Careful Conies

"Abound in love one toward another." I Thessalonians 3:12
"Let brotherly love continue."
Hebrews 13:1

Conies enjoy being
With family and friends.
On this care for one another
Their life often depends.
At play or rest, they stay alert,
And give a warning cry
To rush into their rocky home
From predators nearby!

We need to love each other
With a watchful, constant care,
Knowing that our enemy
May appear from anywhere!
We must stay close together,
And from our Rock not stray,
Lest the cunning evil one
Steal some of us away!

"Be Thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort:...for Thou art my Rock and my fortress."
Psalm 71:3
